MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 2 1887.

TRADE WITH AFRICA.—Within the last few years the United States have taken the lead of all other governments in the exploration of new sources of trade and commerce. The exploration of the Amazon has discovered a vast new field for commercial enterprise. The treaty with Japan opened the sealed ports of this hitherto terra incognita to the business of christianized nations, and the attention of the government is now directed to the vast and undeveloped trade of Africa. A bill was reported, a few days ago, from the committee on commerce of the Senate, to provide for the exploration of the Niger, in Africa. It provides that the Secretary of the Navy cause an exploration to be made, by some competent officer of the navy, of the river Niger, with a view to ascertain its navigability; and that for that purpose he may cause to be prepared or procured a small steam vessel, adapted to river navigation, and appropriate twenty-five thousand dollars for the object.

The bill is accompanied by a letter from T. J. Bowen, Esq., which explains its object, and shows its importance and practicability. The Niger has not yet been explored by vessels further than about four hundred miles from its mouth, and it is believed to be navigable for two thousand miles.

THE DEATH OF DR. KANE AT HAVANA.—By the Black Warrior, at New York, we learn that the funeral of Dr. Kane was celebrated at Havana by a procession of all the Americans there, as well as by the vice Captain-General of the Island, and many Spanish officials. The conduct of Gen. Concha in the matter is spoken of in the highest terms by all the resident Americans. No one was more anxious to pay a due respect to the memory of the Arctic explorer. The remains of the deceased were accompanied to New Orleans by his mother and brothers, who were with him in his last moments. A letter from Havana, dated the 19th ult., to the New York Journal of Commerce, says that Dr. Kane lingered several days between life and death, in a state of apparent insensibility. The State barge provided by the Captain-General received the body and conveyed it to the steamer, escorted by the boats of the commercial marine of the United States in port.

WAVERLY NOVELS—Household Edition.—Boston: Ticknor & Fields.—A specimen sheet of this publication has been laid on our table. It will comprise forty-eight volumes, bound in library style, and will be the most tasteful, convenient, and elegant edition of Sir Walter Scott's novels that has ever been published. The paper will be of fine quality and the books will be printed on beautiful new type. They will be illustrated with splendidly executed engravings from drawings and paintings of the most eminent artists, among whom are mentioned Birket, Foster, Darley, Landseer, Harvey, and Paed. In mechanical execution this work will surpass anything of the kind yet published. Messrs. Kirk & Clarke of this city will receive subscriptions for the work, two volumes to be delivered each month.

KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE FOR MARCH.—Messrs. Crump and Welsh have received the March number of Knickerbocker for March. Its opening article is an admirably written criticism upon Shelley, the poet of poets. It is replete with interesting reading matter.

WHEAT.—We learn from the Danville (Va.) Register that the wheat in that section is looking very promising. It is said to be thick set and green, and the weather is now very favorable to it.

MEETING OF THE STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.—The Frankfort Commonwealth says:

Our readers should not forget that the meeting of the Directors of the Kentucky State Agricultural Society will be held in this city to-morrow [Tuesday, March 3]. Among the important business to be transacted is the selection of the place of holding the next Fair, the revision of the by-laws of the Society, and making out and publishing the premium lists. Some seeds and books from the Patent Office will also be distributed among the members. All who feel any interest in the actions and decisions of the Directors, or in the general cause of agriculture and mechanical arts are invited to attend. The pleasant weather and the importance of some of the matters to be discussed bespeak a large attendance.

Here is an epitaph on a San Francisco money lender by an outraged Californian:

Here lies old thirty-five per cent.
The more he made, the more he lent;
The more he got the more he craved;
The more he made, the more he lent;
Great God! can such a soul be saved.

The following is from the Independent's list of failures:

Thomas Davis, Edinburg, Ind., failed and assigned.
I. V. Branham & Co., Franklin, Ind., suspended and sold out.
Thomas & Bachard, Franklin, Ind., failed.

HORACE VERNET'S DEPARTURE FOR THE UNITED STATES.—The Independence Belge, of the 2d ult., says:

The departure of Horace Vernet for New York is announced. Several pictures have been taken of him, and this engagement will probably detain him in the United States about six months. We do not know if Horace Vernet has accepted the engagement, but a story is circulated in the different ateliers of eminent artists that he will not resist the tempting offer of $200,000. If Vernet should execute several pictures in the United States, he would undoubtedly realize an immense fortune.

CRIMEIN ST. LOUIS.—The Evening News, of Friday, says:

Last night, about 11 o'clock, John Cunningham, waiter at the Monroe House, and Michael Warren, pantry-man at the same establishment, were standing on the corner of Third and Locust streets, when three unknown men approached them, and, without any previous quarrel or the interchange of a word, made an assault upon them and knocked them both down. Cunningham was not hurt, and made his escape, but Warren was killed instantly. He was carried to the police office, and an examination showed that his neck was broken. No wound was discovered, and it is supposed that his neck was broken by the fall. The assaulting party have not been discovered.

The Washington Star of Thursday says:

The Residee Claim, which has been so long before Congress and the Court of Claims, under the management of its leading counsel, Joseph B. Stewart, Esq., of Kentucky, was yesterday paid at the Treasury Department in full, principal and interest.

THE CENTRAL AMERICAN TREATY.—The intelligent correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer writes as follows:

I have scarcely a doubt that the Central American treaty will be confirmed. The cause of the Wilcox proviso being inserted has been satisfactorily explained, and the treaty is strengthened by the expunging of the section confirming the Mosquito land grants.

THE MEXICAN TREATY.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes under date of the 26th ult.:

I have seen a private letter, of the 3d inst., from a good source in Mexico, which states that the treaty contains no stipulations for the cession of any Mexican territory to the United States, but that it secures great commercial privileges to citizens of the United States, in consideration of which the United States is to loan Mexico the sum of ten millions of dollars. The writer states that the loan is so essential to Comanfort's government at this juncture that a revolution in favor of the antagonist church interest will occur in ninety days unless the money be immediately obtained. With the aid of this fund the government will, in the opinion of the writer, be enabled not only to maintain itself, but to extinguish the power of the hierarchy forever, by the seizure and confiscation of all the property and revenues of the church.

To the Editors of the Louisville Bulletin:

PUBLIC SCHOOL CELEBRATIONS.

GENTLEMEN: A writer in the Louisville Courier of the 21st ult. under the name of "A warm friend to the public schools," and in the Journal of the 26th ult., over the signature of "Y.," appears to me much exercised about the manner in which the public schools of this city are celebrating the centennial of the birth of George Washington.

Our friend appears to have forgotten that neither all men, nor all women, are constituted exactly alike; while there is a general resemblance, there are also many differences, and it would be about as reasonable to expect every person to look well in the same suit as to expect all persons, in a free country, to think and act alike on all subjects. In olden times, when men's consciences were regulated by law, it was common for those in power to prescribe how much or how little a man should believe, and in what way his faith should be expressed; whether in offering adoration to the kings and heroes of the age, carrying through blood and carnage, the crescent standard of the epileptic impostor; or enforcing the doctrines of Mother Church, by the convincing arguments of torture, dungeons, and the stake. A slight departure from the Puritanic faith was once, in our own fairland, good cause of expulsion from home and friends; and the same excommunicatio applied to the heathen, condemned, and executed men and women for the imaginary crime of vehementia. Since those days, however, Washington lived; and the schools of the United States are no longer in the land. We begin to understand that human rights are recognized, and the surest way for a man to preserve his own rights is to respect the rights of others. We begin to understand that the rights of the worthy gentlemen who are unable to keep up with these railroad times. They still think they should not only regulate their own consciences, but also the consciences of others; and if they are not permitted to do so, feel like injured persons, and complain loudly in the papers.

These reflections have been produced by reading the articles already referred to, in which some of the public schools were harshly censured for celebrating Washington's birth-day, by readings, recitations, and songs, and by the winding up with a little day-light dance among the children, under the supervision of the teachers and trustees. A disparaging hint is also made by "Y." at the celebration of the two other schools, because they were not so happy (and who had a right to manage them), saw proper to dress two or three of the boys in costumes suited to their parts, or it may be that the uniforms of the dresses worn by the beautiful little girls, who represented the three female departments, in singing that stirring national song, "The Star Spangled Banner," or it may be, the miniature flag of our country, and so forth. I repeat, gentlemen, that the graceful waving of its "stars and stripes" above the little angel singers, as they pronounced, in tones sweeter than the Eolian harp—

And the Star Spangled Banner
In triumph shall be sung,
O'er the land of the free,
And the home of the brave.

It may be that some of these things caused the singular illusion of "Y." Or did the girls and boys (God bless them!) perform their parts so well, so earnestly, and so thoughtfully, that they were before him? For, if so, this caused the mistake, we most cheerfully forgive it. On the propriety and utility of the celebration, there is, among good men and women, some difference of opinion, and probably few subjects are entirely free from the same difficulty. Some think it demoralizing in its tendency, but in what way (unless carried to excess, and then even virtue becomes vice, or unless associated with drinking, and then the liquor does the harm) does the celebration demoralize? Others think it an innocent, genteel, and healthy exercise, calculated to develop the muscular system, give grace and grace to motion, and cultivate uniformly and dutifully among gentlemen and produce in them a gallant and respectful respect toward the ladies. But as these are disputed points, and it is neither necessary nor practicable to settle them definitively, I repeat, gentlemen, that I submit that each family be allowed to decide for itself, and after having done so, to practice upon its own decision, and allow the "rest of mankind" the same privilege. It will save many hard thoughts, hard words, and hard blows to draw a distinction between official duty and unwarrantable interference.

Our friend "Y." tells us that the Public Schools of Philadelphia have a regulation suspending their teachers one month for attending a dancing party. If it be true (but it requires proof), then, my friends, the moral is, does not the law to that kind of domination will have little of the spirit that rushed in burning words from the soul of Patrick Henry when he started Old England with the glorious alternative, "Give me liberty or give me death." VARIETIES.
On Tuesday of last week, the people of Colbourn, Canada West, beheld a grand display of the wonderful phenomena of mirage, by which they could distinctly see the American shore, and small objects, not less than 65 miles distant. The village of Charlotte, the light house, steamers in the harbor, and some say men could be plainly seen for an hour or more.

The New Jersey Geological Report shows that the Atlantic is steadily, and rather rapidly, encroaching upon the land on its coast. At Cape Island the surf has eaten inward full a mile since the revolution. Along the bay shore at Cape May the marsh wears away at the rate of a rod in two years. One of the beaches upon the coast is mentioned as having moved inward one hundred yards in the last twenty years. It is also the opinion of the oldest observers that the tides rise higher upon the Eastern New Jersey uplands than formerly.

Abram Thompson's grandmother, who resides with him in Nottingham, N. H., is 106 years old; weighs 125 pounds; is the mother of 12 children, the oldest of whom is 84 and the youngest 60 years old; has eight great grandchildren living, 213 great grandchildren, and 81 grandchildren; sits up from 8 o'clock in the morning till 8 at night, and eats solid food twice a day; though deaf and blind, her memory and mental faculties are remarkably good, and she will sing with a clear, strong voice portions of hymns, and repeat passages of scripture which she learnt 70 years ago.

An instrument called "Shaw's Garrote Signalizer," is advertised in the London Times, which, when in action, gives a sharp, loud report, and will strike a powerful blow at the same time. They can be carried in the pocket, and the advertisement says, "are a sure defence against garrotes."

In 1657, a man was prosecuted in London for selling coffee, then just introduced, as "a nuisance and prejudice to the neighborhood."

A Chambermaid's Infidelity.—The chambermaid of the New York Hotel, who was attracted to the room of Mrs. Bates when the robber was strangling her on Friday week, said she stood at the door some two or three minutes without saying anything, thinking that it was a simple quarrel between husband and wife.

A late Paris letter has the following in regard to the shooting of Mr. Charles Morey by a sentinel at the Clichy prison, particulars of which have heretofore been published: "The government expresses the utmost regret at this unfortunate occurrence, and promises every reasonable reparation of the wrong in their power. The administration of the prison are especially mortified. They feel that Mr. Morey was in their safe keeping, and that they are responsible for any accident that might happen to him from the neglect of their constant attention, and their profound regret the morning of the accident were visibly expressed. The French government have promised that the soldier shall be punished, and that Mrs. Morey shall be allowed a liberal life pension."

A NOVEL HUMBUG.—It is barely possible your readers may have heard or read in the newspaper advertisements concerning about a lottery scheme called Perham's Gift Enterprise. At all events, it has been industriously advertised in the rural districts of the country for several months past. Well, the drawing was announced to take place in this city yesterday, notwithstanding the law against lotteries, and, as among the prizes were a "marriageable lady worth $25,000 in her own right," and a well known marriageable gentleman worth $50,000, of course a congregation of the curious assembled—three-fourths of whom were very naturally females. The whole affair was stated to be guarded and adapted to all possible contingencies, and an ex-Altman of New York stood forth as voucher. If the lucky one who drew the lady, for instance, previous matrimonial arrangements, or from happening to be of the wrong sex, did not want her, he or she could receive $5,000 instead; and in the case of the marriageable gentleman, $10,000.

The affair took place, it is stated, at the Chinese Assembly Rooms, and the aforesaid "marriageable lady, worth," &c., was placed upon the stand, bedizened in silk and magnified in crinoline, the observed of all observers. One hundred cents were all that was necessary for a chance at her, and though the wages about town say she can be seen on Broadway, it was evident the show induced a sale of sundry chances among old gentlemen with opera glasses and fast boys with goatees. The "prize" was given out as a rural maiden from New England, black-haired, well-behaved, and blushing, all for a dollar. It is a sad disappointment, that in all that crowd nobody knows who won her! Whether this is the finale of the "Perham Gift Enterprise" I am not able to say, but perhaps, if the lucky parties shall ever become known, it may stimulate competition to be humbugged next time!

PARDONED.—W. N. Lyon has been pardoned out of the State prison by Gov. Willard. Lyon was sentenced to the State prison nearly four years ago, for manslaughter committed in Florence, Switzerland county, at which place he was postmaster. The day before he was to have been conveyed to the prison, however, he made his escape, and a reward of $200 was offered for his arrest.

A few weeks after this, nothing having been heard of Lyon, two well dressed individuals called on Mr. Patterson at the State prison, and asked to be shown through the building. Mr. P. went with them through the different shops and answered the numerous questions put to him by the visitors in his usual polite manner. On returning to the office, the younger of the two men remarked to Mr. Patterson that he guessed he owed him five years' service, and that he might as well commence then as any time. Patterson laughed at what he supposed to be a joke, but the young man told him that he was in earnest—that his name was Lyon, and gave the particulars of his escape.

The sheriff was communicated with, and Lyon's story was of course corroborated. He has been in the prison three years and three months, during most of which time he has been a "trustee." His mind having become somewhat affected, efforts have at various times been made to secure his pardon, but till now without success. The killing, we believe, took place in a quarrel between him and the deceased.—New Albany Ledger.

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR.

At a meeting of the citizens of Louisville, held at the Merchants' Exchange February 28, 1887, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting, to recommend proper measures for testifying respect to the memory of Dr. E. K. Kane, it was, by resolution, requested that the Mayor cause minute guns to be fired from the time of the landing of the remains at Portland until they are disposed of at Mount Hope, and that he also request the officers of vessels in port to carry their flags at half-mast, and that he cause the bells of the city to be tolled during the firing of minute guns.

In accordance with this request, I, John Barbee, Mayor of the city of Louisville, do make this proclamation: that minute guns be fired as requested by the aforesaid resolutions, and Capt. Thomas G. Morrison is directed to see this order carried out. I also direct that the wardens of the several engine-houses toll their bells during the time of firing the minute guns, and request the officers of vessels in port to carry their flags at half-mast. And it is the duty of the citizens of Louisville further recommended by the citizens of Louisville to further their places of business during the reception of the remains of Dr. Kane.

JOHN BARBEE, Mayor.

Dr. King's Dispensary.

DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, bet. First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other derangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their case to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STRUCTURES of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a structure exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEALING WEAKNESSES.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive habits of incontinence, youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

Persons abroad, by writing and stating their cases, with a fee enclosed (post-paid), can have the medicine sent to their address, with necessary directions for using the same.

The strictest secrecy observed in all cases. s1b jeb

HOW IS IT

EVERYBODY wants one of TROXEL'S beautiful AMBROTYPE! Some months ago the different hundred names gotten up by artists to deceive the public attracted considerable attention, but now they have been explained how easily it is to be humbugged even by a name, as all other pictures made on glass in Louisville except at TROXEL'S gallery are not hermetically sealed, not so beautiful, and liable to fade.
 Citizens and strangers are particularly invited to call before going elsewhere.
 Instructions given for the art for $20.
 Also, rights for sale to operate in Kentucky.
 W. L. TROXEL, Ambrotypist,
 Main st., between Second and Third,

The Kentucky river is rising at Frankfort. Up to Saturday morning it had risen two feet at Frankfort.
 The unfortunate steamer Grapeshot has met with another accident. The Pittsburg Journal says that she struck a rock when near Haskeville, which broke her guards considerably, but did not seriously injure her.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Monday, March 2.—Maj. Saltillo, a pensioner for service in the Mexican war, and Doctor Taylor, a calico printer from Philadelphia, have been in the almshouse during the winter. Yesterday they went to Portland for recreation, and the Doctor became drunk and noisy. He was taken to the watch, and the Major, though had committed no offence, gallantly accompanied his comrade. Taylor was sent to the work-house, and Saltillo discharged.

Catherine Murphy is accused by her husband of constant drunkenness for two years. Sent to the work-house.

George Marshall was arrested with a large amount of counterfeit money in his possession. In order to get testimony from Cincinnati, the case was continued until Saturday.

Leopold Hemstetter was charged with attempting to pass a $5 counterfeit money. He went to Brown's grocery on the corner of Tenth and Market streets and offered it in payment for two pounds of sugar. The bill was pronounced bogus, and he then went to Brownfield's and also made the same attempt. He was then arrested. It was proven that his employer, Louis Demph, had paid him the money, supposing it to be good. He was thereupon discharged.

As a collateral matter, a discussion arose as to what business an unmarried man like the accused had with sugar. His counsel easily settled the matter by avowing his own custom of speculating in small quantities of saccharine for punches!

Caspar Grimm had sued out a peace warrant against John Grimm. They are brothers and have had a difficulty about property inherited from their father. John's own recognition was taken.

We are indebted to Mr. W. A. Smith, the attentive clerk of the Fashion, for late St. Louis papers. The Fashion is the regular St. Louis packet to-morrow.

PORTER WANTED.—See advertisement in another column.

Mr. Beatty's card, as published in this morning's Journal, had a wrong word in it, which is corrected below:

[For the Louisville Journal.]
 WHO IS TO BE MAYOR?—For the information of those fast editors who it is fair to presume carry no extra weight in this community (either accidental or otherwise) I will state that I am not an aspirant for the office of Mayor, nor have I solicited the vote or influence of any person residing in either district of this city, or fireman or other person of less honorable distinction, either directly or indirectly, with a view to obtain that office.
